The new Air India

Formed by the merger of the erstwhile Air India and Indian, the new Air India is one of Asia's largest airlines, with a fleet of over 140 aircraft and a network spanning 120 destinations in 40 countries. With 111 new aircraft on order from Boeing and Airbus, the new Air India will soon have one of the youngest fleets in the world.

A new fleet

With over 45 brand new B777 and A320 family aircraft already inducted in the fleet, a world-class product is progressively being rolled out network-wide. Over the next few years, the fleet will grow to 180 aircraft including 27 Boeing B787 Dreamliners.

Fleet on order

Aircraft	No.
Boeing 777-200LR/300ER	23
Boeing 787-8	27
Boeing 737-800	18
Airbus 321/320/319	43

A new in-flight experience on international routes...

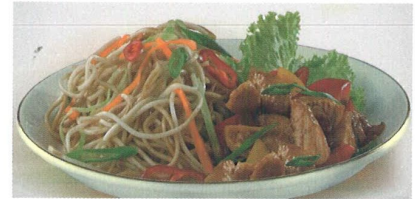

On board, experience Air India's warm hospitality, and enjoy an exquisite cuisine that is a gourmet's delight. On the new Boeing B777, you will find flat beds in the First and Executive Class, an in-flight entertainment featuring the best of Hollywood and Bollywood, laptop power inserts on every seat and more.

...and on domestic metro flights

Now fly domestic metro routes on brand new Airbus A319/321 aircraft equipped with personal TVs on every seat, featuring an entertainment system with 12 audio and 6 video channels and a real-time air map charting the flight's progress. In Executive Class, enjoy a choice of meals from a new international menu.

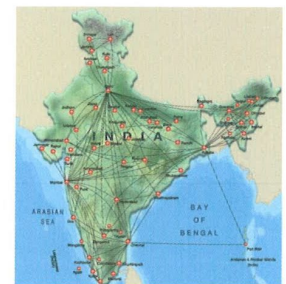

A new network and schedule

The new Air India's integrated domestic and international network, connects the vast Indian sub-continent like no other airline.

Key long haul routes between India – USA and India – UK, connect to dedicated hub-and-spoke flights over our hubs at Mumbai/Delhi to Bangalore, Hyderabad, Chennai, Kolkata and other destinations. These connecting services operate from the international terminals and provide quick, seamless transfers to onward destinations.

And now, a new hub at Frankfurt will provide fast, efficient connections between India and Europe/North America, with daily services to Mumbai, Delhi, New York and Chicago.

Holidays with the new Air India

The new Air India provides an opportunity for a great holiday - unmatched access to the length and breadth of India, fast and easy connections to/from North America, UK, Europe, Gulf/Middle East, Far East and South East Asia, convenient schedules and a world-class in-flight experience.

Come, try the new Air India.
